

Here is the next installment of Diane Toop's incredible challenge to raise money for us. Diane is a real star, and she has now completed 3 of her 5 challenges. In Diane's words...

“Ben Nevis has been conquered!! Challenge three has been completed - along with my husband Paul (who has also been raising sponsorship for this challenge) we got to the top of Ben Nevis on Saturday. Luckily the weather was good to us and the rain stayed away so we were able to see the wonderful views, so although our legs are suffering today it was all worthwhile. We met lots of people on the way, especially four great lads who between us kept each other going to complete the four hour climb!!! Thank you for your continued support”.

Diane's next challenge is later this month, when she will be cycling coast-to-coast....to find out more, or to sponsor Diane, please visit her JustGiving page by following the link <https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/diane-toop1>
